

Japanese Language Module 2-1 Message Translation Sample

Thinking about interaction means thinking about communication. Interactive art is a field enabled by dialogue. In this rapidly changing society, I would like to learn with you, not self-centered self-expression, but what we should feel, think, and express in our relationship with others.